Best Early Phase CRO in North America

This is the second time Altasciences has won this award and been officially recognized as one of the top performing names in the sector. As part of their 2018 Biotechnology Awards, Global Health and Pharma (GHP) continues to follow and honor the most game-changing advances and revolutionary developments in Biotechnology, increasingly seen as being the front line of medical science, research and development.

February 2017 (also winners in 2014, 2015, 2016)

CRO Leadership Awards

This is the fourth consecutive year that Algorithmme Pharma, an Altasciences company, has been recognized by the industry. This year, Algorithmme Pharma excelled in the Expertise and Reliability categories, earning two distinct CRO Leadership Awards. For their third consecutive year, Vince & Associates Clinical Research, also an Altasciences company, received a total of five CRO Leadership Awards in the following categories: Capabilities, Compatibility, Expertise, Quality and Reliability.

December 2016

Scrip Award

Altasciences was extremely honored to have been named Best Contract Research Organization – Niche at the 12th Annual Scrip Awards. Altasciences was selected from among many leading CROs by an expert judging panel, comprised of independent, senior industry experts from around the world, each chosen for their knowledge, objectivity and credibility. The “Best CRO” award was specifically judged on the full range of services provided by CROs, and the quality of relationships they have built with their clients, with particular attention paid to the innovative patient recruitment strategies the CROs brought to the partnership.
